

Chiropractic Practice-Based Research Networks under construction: September 2015

	Province	Principal Investigator(s)	Area of Interest
	British Columbia	Dr. Jeffrey Quon	The effects of PBRN activities on chiropractors' use of multimodal care for low back pain and the effect on patient outcomes
	Manitoba	Dr. Steven Passmore	Delivery of evidence-informed conservative clinical management for patients referred from a hospital based spine care pathway
	Nova Scotia	Dr. Jill Hayden	Research and evidence-informed practice within a Nova Scotian chiropractic PBRN: implementing biopsychosocial assessment for low back pain
	Qu�ebec	Dr. Mathieu Pich�e & Dr. Andr�e Bussi�eres	Evaluating whether a knowledge translation strategy can increase the use of multimodal care for the management of non-specific neck pain
	Ontario (Guelph)	Dr. John Srbely	Barriers and facilitators to uptake of evidence-based practice in a PBRN: an overview illustrated in Whiplash Associated Disorders
	Ontario (Kingston)	Dr. Simon French	Queens University Chiropractic PBRN: helping chiropractors and chiropractic academics to work closer together to improve quality of patient care.
	Canada-wide study	Dr. Kent Stuber	Assessing patient-centered care in patients with chronic health conditions attending chiropractic practice, using questionnaires, interviews and focus groups.